“For this reason God gave them up to vile passions. For even their women exchanged the natural use for what is against nature. Likewise also the men, leaving the natural use of the woman, burned in their lust for one another, men with men committing what is shameful, and receiving in themselves the penalty of their error which was due.” (Romans 1:26-27)

“The Department of Health & Human Services (HHS) is passing on the toxic lie of the sexual revolution that infants and children are sexual beings. This alone is reason to abolish the HHS.” –Dave–

According to an HHS guide, my almost 3 year old grandson is a sexual being. That is a strange concept for me because just three weeks ago when he was at my house all I saw was an energetic little boy who loves to laugh and learn. How to become a sexual deviant did not seem a topic of interest to him.

But according to the debased minds at HHS, my little Benjamin, because he is a human being, he is therefore a sexual being. What could possibly be the motivation for the HHS for teaching parents who “may want to acknowledge that, while they know it feels good, it is a private matter...Parents can make it clear that they expect the child to keep that activity private...”?

Clearly it is to allow for masturbation and that parents “should only be concerned about masturbation if a child seems preoccupied with it to the exclusion of other activities.” So in other words, if little Johnny isn’t interested in Little League because he’s too preoccupied with his...then Mommy and Daddy should be concerned.

Now why would HHS think it is necessary to spend taxpayer dollars providing this devilish information? One only need to look no further than HHS Secretary Kathleen Sebelius, aka “The Queen of Abortion.”

It is her ongoing efforts to mainstream and avoid the consequences of sex before marriage. This time it is through ObamaCare, mandating insurance companies provide, without co-pay, the following:

- Generic birth control pills at $9 a month
- Day-After Chemical Abortion Pills
- All mechanical Birth Control Devices

Is it the responsibility of WE the People to not only provide unlimited means of abortion, but also to pay for such trashy information from their guide? I’m guessing the Founders would answer a resounding no!

FROM THE FOUNDERS

The Founders would be rolling over in their graves at the thought of a Department of Health and Human Services, much less a department that is trying to mainstream immoral behavior.

“Give up money, give up fame, give up science, give the earth itself and all it contains rather than do an immoral act. And never suppose that in any possible situation, or under any circumstances, it is best for you to do a dishonorable thing, however slightly so it may appear to you. Whenever you are to do a thing, though it can never be known but to yourself, ask yourself how you would act were all the world looking at you, and act accordingly.” Thomas Jefferson, in a letter to his nephew Peter Carr on August 19, 1785

Can you possibly imagine the response of President Thomas Jefferson if he was recommended to start a cabinet position “for protecting the health of all Americans and providing essential human services, especially for those who are least able to help themselves”? And if he were so inclined to inquire what protection and provisions this agency would provide, imagine his response to the proposition this agency would teach that children masturbating is normal behavior?

Would President Jefferson shake his head in affirmation to the advice of “Parents can make it clear that they expect the child to keep that activity [masturbation] private...” given the admonition in the letter to his nephew? In a letter to the Marquis de Lafayette, Jefferson wrote:

A rigid economy of the public contributions and absolute interdiction of all useless expenses will go far towards keeping the government honest and unoppressive.

Is not the HHS a useless expenditure? Are they honest in their mandating insurance companies to provide abortion measures? Is it not oppressive that HHS Secretary Sebelius has these unlimited powers to order, by executive fiat, private companies to provide services they would not normally?

Add the Department of Health and Human Services to Agriculture, Education, Energy, Homeland Security, Interior, Labor, Transportation, Veterans Affairs, and EPA to the chopping block!

FROM THE PULPIT

“One of the major forces preventing young people from obeying the call of God into vocational Christian service is defeat in the area of lust. A teenager hears a challenging call to throw himself into the cause of world evangelization. He feels the promptings of the Holy Spirit. He tastes the thrill of following the King of kings into battle. But he does not obey because he is masturbating regularly. He feels guilty. He can hardly imagine witnessing to a pretty girl about the eternal plight of her soul, because he has so habitually looked at girls naked in his imagination. So he feels unworthy and unable to obey the call of God. Masturbation becomes the enemy of missions.” John Piper from “Desiring God”, September 10, 1984

Many adherents to the Sexual Revolution have long sought to mainstream their godless, lustful lifestyle to gain societal acceptance. By making behaviors seem “natural and normal” they take aim at biblical principles that espouse holy and pure living.

I grant you that sexual feelings are natural; that does not make them legal in God’s eyes. There are many passages in the Bible that clearly forbid sexual self-satisfaction. Just because something is natural does not make it okay. We are born with a sinful nature and that is why the Apostle Paul gives such a clear admonition:

“Flee sexual immorality. Every sin that a man does is outside the body, but he who commits sexual immorality sins against his own body. Or do you not know that your body is the temple of the Holy Spirit who is in you, whom you have from God, and you are not your own? For you were bought at a price; therefore glorify God in your body and in your spirit, which are God’s.” (1 Corinthians 6:18-20)

The type of behavior HHS is promoting in their online guide is completely antithetical to the above admonition and numerous other passages in the Bible. We are to keep ourselves free from lustful thoughts. Jesus Christ added to the Seventh Commandment when He said:

“You have heard that it was said to those of old, ‘You shall not commit adultery.’ But I say to you that whoever looks at a woman to lust for her has already committed adultery with her in his heart.” (Matthew 5:27-28)

It is clear that masturbation is forbidden by the Bible. Whether or not those at HHS who came up with this godless guide know this to be true, I do not know. What I do know is that God’s Word proclaims sexual purity a required Christian characteristic.

Regardless the guides published and the governments stamp of approval, be it from the HHS Secretary or the President himself, we must obey God’s law.

TO THE STREETS

How do Christians approach a subject such as this? First, we must do so with humility, modesty, and confident temerity. This HHS guide actually gives us an great opportunity to explain biblical principles to a wondering world. As a United States Army First Sergeant I was actually given this opportunity some 12 years ago. During a field problem I was asked by some of my NCOs, "Since the Bible doesn't say anything about masturbation, why do so many churches say it is a sin?"

I told them that although the Bible does not address the issue directly by name, it clearly forbids masturbation. I shared the following verses with them:

1. Proverbs 5:15-21; 6:25
2. Matthew 5:27-28
3. 1 Corinthians 6:18-20
4. Galatians 5:16-17
5. James 1:14-15

Additionally, although HHS would say they have only published a guide for parents and that parents are free to or not to use their suggestions; is it the role of government to give out advice that is clearly contrary to biblical principles? Are they not choosing sides in the issue of morality by coming down on the side of the Sexual Revolution by declaring our babies as sexual beings?

The proposed fiscal year 2012 HHS Budget is projecting $892 billion (with a "B"!) in outlays. That is nearly one trillion dollars! Friends that equals 54% of our current budget deficit. In other words, we can cut the deficit in half overnight simply by closing down HHS.

WE the People do not need a government agency to enhance our well-being "by providing for effective health and human services and by fostering sound, sustained advances in sciences underlying medicine, public health, and social services."

It is because of an HHS agency, the Food & Drug Administration (FDA) that a truly miracle drug known as DAVANAT, from Galectin Therapeutics, is not readily available to suffering cancer patients. It cost literally millions to get the FDA stamp of approval when those dollars could be better spent on research and development. It is long overdue that we take a closer look at all our government agencies.
